DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The amendment filed 1/18/05 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The claims have added the following limitations which are not supported by the original specification “the first user is designated in a memory accessible by the computer system as restricted from finalizing shipping labels” the specification talks about users being able to finalize shipping labels, but not specifically disclose the system designating users as being “restricted from finalizing the shipping labels” does not appear in the specification, therefore the applicant not having support for this phrase in the original disclosure.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 7, 11, 13 and 14 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. See above “objection to amendment” for reasoning.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 7, 10-14, and 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gendreau (US 2001/0034608) in view of Stefik et al (US 2003/0115144):

3. With respect to Claim 7: Gendreau discloses the use of a management computer system used for carriers, where the system:

- a. Receives a request to ship a parcel where the request contains partial shipment information comprising names and addresses (Paragraph 0032);
- b. Generating and printing a traveler label comprising a barcode (Invoice 22, Paragraph 0032)
- c. Generate a shipping label comprising the partial shipment information (27).

4. Gendreau however, fails to disclose the computer system being capable of assigning printing rights to a user, whether the user is designated as being able to print a shipping label, and finalize a shipping label. Stefik, discloses a first set of instructions input by an administrator of an enterprise, designate in a memory accessible by the computer system a setting for a user to be restricted from printing but capable of submitting requests (See Figure 4a and paragraphs 0016, 0040, 0065-0067). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Gendreau, to allow for the restricting of printing and finalizing documents, in order to control the use of a digital work (See Stefik, abstract).

4. With respect to Claim 10: Gendreau discloses the use of a management computer system used for printing invoices and shipping labels but fails to disclose designating users as having printing privileges and shipping privileges. Stefik discloses a computer system which is programmed to:

a. According to a first set of instructions input by an administrator of an enterprise, designate in a memory accessible by the computer system a setting for a user to be restricted from printing but capable of submitting requests (See Figure 4a and paragraphs 0016, 0040, 0065-0067). The examiner considers the system of Stefik to be fully capable of being used with shipping labels and shipping requests due to the fact that this is considered to be intended use. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to modify the computer system of Gendreau, to include the privileges for restriction of privileges, as taught by Stefik, in order to control the use of digital works and images. (See Stefik, abstract)

5. With respect to Claims 11 and 13: See Gendreau Paragraph 0032.

6. With respect to Claim 12: See Gendreau Paragraph 0034.

7. With respect to Claim 14: See Gendreau Paragraphs 0032-0034.

8. With respect to Claim 23: See Gendreau Paragraphs 0032 and 0050

9. With respect to Claims 24 and 25: See Gendreau Figure 1 with corresponding detailed descriptions.

10. With respect to Claim 26: See Gendreau Paragraphs 0034 and 0050.

Response to Arguments

5. With respect to Applicant's arguments that the specification does have support for "restricted from finalizing": First, the examiner has withdrawn the objection to the phrase "partial shipment information", but has kept the objection to "restricted from finalizing". The applicant has argued that printing a shipping label is one form of finalizing a shipping label, however the specification does not state that printing is a form of finalizing. One can always print a label before it is finalized, as a rough draft. Therefore just because something is printing does not mean or imply that it is final. The specification gives weight to restricting a user from printing a label, but never states that the user is restricted from finalizing. The specification also allows a user to finalize a shipping label, but never states that they are restricted from performing the task. The objection stands above for the phrase "restricted from finalizing".

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7, 10-14 and 23-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
